ALTAR FRONTAL

Altar Frontal Panels dating from 1907. These 5 embroidered figures, with silk and gold metal thread, were originally on an altar frontal and, when this became worn, they were carefully removed by Pat Wilson, who looks after our linen and robes (and registers), and then mounted separately. They are used on our funeral pall that goes over coffins. They were designed by Sir Ninian Comper and the original drawings can be seen in the Royal Institute of British Architects.
